

"BTRF-Neoliva Deal on Cyber Security Signed"

Skills development BTRF's time befitting initiative

Bangladesh Training and Research Foundation (BTRF) has opened up a new horizon by launching new wings to provide skills development training on cyber security.

For this, BTRF has signed an agreement with Neoliva Skills Development Center (Neoliva) on January 18, 2023 (Wednesday) at its conference room.

Md. Faruque Hossain, Chairman of Neoliva and former secretary of the Government of Bangladesh, and Dr. Zeenat Sultana, Managing Director of BTRF signed the agreement on behalf of their respective sides.

Through inking this agreement, BTRF, a sister concern of the Bangladesh Center for Communications Program (BCCP) has added a new horizon in its business initiative where Neoliva Skills Development Center (Neoliva), Bangladesh will provide all resource support for conducting this highly sophisticated training. BTRF will shoulder the task of marketing through its extensive network and expertise for promotion.

Md. Shahjahan, Director and CEO, A.K. Shatiquir Rahman, Adviser (Development), spoke at the program. From BCCP, others present include Meher Afroz, Biman Barua Chowdhury, Badal Krishna Halder, Abu Hasib Mostafa Kamal, Golam Shahnee.

Expressing his satisfaction for joining hands with BCCP, Md. Faruque Hossain said, skills is the most integral part for creating employment for large number of youths for tapping huge job market at home and abroad.

BCCP's focus on skills development through providing training, especially soft skills training is very much time befitting initiative.

Highly appreciating the capacity of BCCP for conducting communications programs, he said, BCCP has already earned a very high reputation in various government departments as well as donor agencies and the area of providing cyber security training will take BCCP's image to a new height.

Md. Shahjahan termed this agreement signing occasion as beginning of a big thing and said BCCP is making future plans considering its sustainability.

Dr. Zeenat Sultana made a brief on BTRF and its areas of business. A.K. Shafiqur Rahman gave a detailed picture about all sister concerns of BCCP.

Later, Md. Faruque Hossain visited different sections of BCCP including Media and Materials Center (MMC) and expressed satisfaction over BCCP's dedicated and integrated departments to conduct all sorts of programs.

For more information, please visit our website:

www.btrf-bangladesh.org